EXTRACT & ALUM : We, of the Planet Moo, have no more milk. We must have milk or we will perish!

SFX: phone ringing

NYC : This just in. All milk in New York City has disappeared. The mayor is furious. A full investigation is now under way. From Wall Street: coffee stocks are falling steadily.

SFX: phone ringing

MIDWEST : Reporting here in the Midwest: Elementary schools cannot find any milk. Mothers everywhere are starting to panic. The question everyone is asking: Why bake cookies anymore?

SFX: phone ringing

WEST : The entire west coast is milk-less and the cows look confused. A Hooves-Across-America Movement has started.

SFX: phone ringing

UN : An emergency meeting at the United Nations has just started and there are no cappuccinos in sight! Italy threatens to withdraw.

SFX: phone ringing

EXECUTIVE : Babies are crying! Cereal executives are falling out of windows right and left - left and right! The general public is beginning to panic!

SFX: MIM theme

RENNET & CURD : This is a job for the Men In Milk - Dairy Defenders!

RENNET : Milk is disappearing from all over the world.

CURD : We must find the mayor.

SFX: transition music

RENNET : Tell us, Madam Mayor, what has your investigation uncovered?

MAYOR : Which one?

CURD : Concerning the milk.

RENNET & CURD : Where's the milk?

MAYOR : Well, that depends on your definition of milk, if, when, and how, you decide to define milk. Regardless of these conditions, let me say this about that: my office is very concerned about this situation. We have set up an investigative committee which has set up a commission which has set up a task force to look into it. If, and when, any of them have any information at all to report, we will take all the necessary steps to keep you fully informed.

RENNET : Um, er, uh, right. Thank you. You've been a great help.

CURD : Yes, we can always count on your office to clarify things and move things along.

MAYOR : You're welcome.

SFX: transition music

RENNET : Now that was useless. Got any more bright ideas?

CURD : How about the East Side Twins? They always have info.

RENNET : Well, speak of the devil -

CAPISCE : How ya doin'?

CARPACCIO : Yeah, how ya doin'? Whatcha want with the East Side Twins?

CAPISCE :           Yeah, whatcha want?

RENNET :            The milk is gone.

CARPACCIO :        So we heard.

CAPISCE :           Yeah, so we heard.

RENNET :            Well, do you know anything about it?

CARPACCIO :        Who us?

CAPISCE :           Yeah, who us?

CURD :              Is there an echo in here?

CARPACCIO :        Listen, we might know somethin' and we might not.

CAPISCE :           Yeah, we might and we might not.

RENNET & CURD :   Well?

CARPACCIO :        This is about the milk, right?

RENNET :            Yeah, the milk.

CARPACCIO :        We don't know nothin'. We're lactose intolerant.

CAPISCE :           So we don't care, see? See ya around.

CARPACCIO :        Yeah, see ya around.

RENNET :            Another brilliant idea.

CURD :              The cows are still here.

RENNET :            We'll go to the cows.

SFX: transition music

RENNET & CURD :   Who has been stealing all your milk?

COWS :              Moooooooooooo-men.

RENNET & CURD :   Whoop-dee-doo, we're off!

RENNET :            By the way -

CURD : - nice hair.

SFX: transition music

RENNET : Stop the car!

SFX: car screech

RENNET : There's an interplanetary milk conference going on downtown.

CURD : Moomen always attend milk shows.

RENNET : Right. But how will we ever pick them out of the crowd?

RENNET & CURD : Hmmmm.

SFX: transition music

EXTRACT : They will never suspect us disguised as Italian dairy scientists.

ALUM : Yes, and soon we will have all their milk.

RENNET : Not so fast.

CURD : Yeah, not so fast.

RENNET & CURD : We heard every word. Who are you?

ALUM : Buon giorno, we're Italians.

EXTRACT : Yes, I mean, sì, buon giorno. We are Italian dairy scientists.

RENNET : If that's true, how do you say milk in Italian?

EXTRACT & ALUM : Uh, er, uh....

CURD : Just as we thought, MOOMEN!

RENNET : We did? When did we think that?

CURD : Don't you remember? In the car?

EXTRACT : Aren't you a little young to be driving?

ALUM : And short?

RENNET & CURD : SHUT-UP!

EXTRACT :           Okay.

RENNET :            That's it! We're taking you back to Planet Moo.

EXTRACT & ALUM :        But we'll die without milk!

COWS :              We'll go with you.

EXTRACT & ALUM :        What are those?

CURD :              Cows, you idiots. Where do you think milk comes from?

EXTRACT & ALUM :        Supermarkets!

RENNET :            Take these cows and go home.

CURD :              Yeah, and take a biology teacher with you.

SFX: MIM theme

RENNET & CURD : Another disaster averted by the Men In Milk - Dairy Defenders!

RENNET :            And I know just the biology teacher they should take.
